Specification

Anti-fatigue pads are beneficial after thighs and legs or feet, which provide you with unique sensations from your head to toe. Anti-fatigue pads are a natural shock absorber that bounces quickly to the smallest weight shift, encouraging blood flow to the feet, legs, and lower back. Anti-fatigue pads are designed to best soften to minimize the harmful and painful consequences of standing, as well as to reduce standing pressure and strain. Anti-fatigue pads are designed to promote better posture, proper circulation, muscular tones and well-being. In addition, cushions reduce fatigue and discomfort associated with long-term or static standing stress and strain.
